

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION

THIS BOOK

THE CONTEXT

1. Good or bad by nature? Empathy and sympathy
2. What is my price? Integrity as supply and demand
3. Bagels at work: honesty and dishonesty
4. Egoism versus altruism: the theory of the warm glow and the helping hand
5. What you expect is what you get: the Pygmalion and Golem effects
6. Self-image and behavior: the Galatea effect
7. Self-knowledge and mirages: self-serving biases and the dodo effect
8. Apples, barrels and orchards: dispositional, situational and systemic causes

FACTOR 1: CLARITY

9. Flyers and norms: cognitive stimuli
10. The Ten Commandments and fraud: affective stimuli
11. The name of the game: euphemisms and spoilsports
12. Hypegiaphobia: the fear factor of rules
13. Rules create offenders and forbidden fruits taste the best: reactance theory
14. What happens normally is the norm: descriptive and injunctive norms
15. Broken panes bring bad luck: the broken window theory
16. The office as a reflection of the inner self: interior decoration and architecture

FACTOR 2: ROLE-MODELING

17. The need for ethical leadership: moral compass and courage
18. Morals melt under pressure: authority and obedience
19. Trapped in the role: clothes make the man
20. Power corrupts, but not always: hypocrisy and hypercrisy
21. Beeping bosses: fear, aggression and uncertainty
22. Fare dodgers and black sheep: when model behavior backfires

FACTOR 3: ACHIEVABILITY

23. Goals and blinkers: tunnel vision and teleopathy
24. Own goals: seeing goals as the ceiling
25. The winner takes it all: losing your way in the maze of competition
26. From Jerusalem to Jericho: time pressure and slack
27. Moral muscle: the importance of sleep and sugar
28. The future under control: implementation plans and coffee cups
29. Ethics on the slide leads to slip-ups: escalating commitment and the induction mechanism
30. The foot-in-the-door and door-in-the-face techniques: self-perception theory
31. So long as the music is playing: sound waves and magnetic waves

FACTOR 4: COMMITMENT

32. Feeling good and doing good: mood and atmosphere
33. A personal face: social bond theory and lost property
34. Cows and Post-it notes: love in the workplace
35. The place stinks: smell and association
36. Wealth is damaging: red rags and red flags
37. Morals on vacation: cognitive dissonance and rationalizations

FACTOR 5: TRANSPARENCY

38. The mirror as a reality check: objective self-awareness and self-evaluation
39. Constrained by the eyes of strangers: the four eyes principle
40. Lamps and sunglasses: detection theory, controlitis and the spotlight test
41. Deceptive appearances: moral self-fulfillment and the compensation effect
42. Perverse effects of transparency: moral licensing and the magnetic middle

FACTOR 6: OPENNESS

43. A problem shared is a problem halved: communication theory
44. What you see is not what you say: group pressure and conformity
45. Explaining, speaking out and letting off steam: pressure build-up under thought suppression
46. Blow the whistle and sound the alarm: the bystander effect and pluralistic ignorance

FACTOR 7: ENFORCEMENT

47. The value of appreciation: compliments and the Midas effect
48. Washing dirty hands: self-absolution and the Macbeth effect
49. Punishment pitfalls: deterrence theory
50. The price of a penalty: the crowding-out effect
51. The corrupting influence of rewards and bonuses: the overjustification effect
52. The Heinz dilemma: levels of moral development

CHALLENGE!

NOTES

ABOUT THE AUTHOR