

Invitation to Participate

2019 Research Methods Division-CARMA Doctoral Student and Junior Faculty Consortium

Overview: The consortium is a virtual, real-time, and participative opportunity to interact with leading scholars and methodologists across three perspectives: macro-quantitative, micro-quantitative, and qualitative. The program schedule and topics of the consortium sessions are provided below.

Day and Time (EST)	Topic
Wednesday, May 29 1 p.m. – 2:45 p.m.	Introduction to the Consortium and Designing and Managing your Dissertation or Large Research Project
Wednesday, June 5 1 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.	New Approaches to Collecting and Sourcing Data
Wednesday, June 12 1 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.	Issues with Longitudinal and Process Studies Research Designs
Wednesday, June 19 1 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.	Advances in Data Analysis Approaches
Wednesday, June 26 1 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.	Clearing Methodological Hurdles in the Publication Process: Ask the Editors
Saturday, August 10, 6 p.m. – 8 p.m.	Consortium Social at AOM (*Date/Time to be confirmed with AoM program)

Panelists: Paul Bliese (South Carolina), Trevis Certo (Arizona State U.), Craig Crossland (U. of Notre Dame), Christian Dormann (Mainz), Jan Dul (Erasmus); Stine Grodal (Boston U.), Aaron Hill (U. of Florida), Sam Hunter (Penn State), Pinar Ozcan (Warwick U.), Andrew Van de Ven (U. of Minnesota), Philipp Tuertscher (VU-Amsterdam), Mike Pratt (Boston College), Scott Tonidandel (UNCC), and MORE!

Key Benefits: (1) Opportunity to learn from and interact with leading scholars and methodologists; (2) all sessions (except the consortium reception) occur outside of the AOM conference time frame; (3) online participation; and (4) no rule limiting the number of participants per school for this consortium (we may accept multiple doctoral students and faculty members from the same program).

Who Can Apply? Anyone interested in research methodology can apply, especially (1) doctoral students seeking to deepen their expertise in research methodology; and (2) junior faculty seeking professional development. All participants will require a computer and a good Internet connection.

Do I Need to Be a Methods Researcher to Participate? No! The consortium is open to researchers of all areas who wish to strengthen and develop their methodological skills.

Do I Need to Be a Member of the Research Methods (RM) Division to Participate? Yes. If you are not currently a member of the RM Division, you will pledge to join the RM Division when you next renew your Academy of Management membership. You can either change your two divisions to include the RM Division or you can add an additional division membership for only $11. Information on adding a division can be found at this link.

What Will I Need to Complete this Application? Your CV, and a short bio (less than one page) that includes any specific interests in research methods. If you are a graduate student, you will also be asked to provide the name and email address of a faculty advisor or mentor who supports your application. The application deadline is Monday, May 13, 2019.

Link to Application System

If you have any questions about the consortium, please contact Thomas Greckhamer at tgreck@lsu.edu

Consortium chair: Thomas Greckhamer

Macro track chair: Joanna Campbell

Micro track chair: Jose Cortina

Qualitative track chair: Sanjay Jain

Student Representatives: Nitya Chawla, Elizabeth Clayton, Yifan Song, and Qi Zhang

CARMA representative: Larry Williams